Description

An extraordinary former Carmelite residence with extensive accommodation, historic character, part walled gardens, and exceptional potential for restoration, hospitality, multi generational living or creative reinvention.

Set on the edge of the popular border town of Presteigne, Carmel Court is a substantial and highly individual former Carmelite residence offering extensive accommodation, tremendous flexibility, and exciting scope for a variety of future uses, subject to any necessary consents.

This intriguing property combines history, character, and sheer scale. Formerly part of the Carmelite convent established in Presteigne during the 1950s, the building now presents a rare opportunity to acquire a landmark property with enormous potential for restoration, reinvention, or multi generational living.

Although now requiring improvement and updating in areas, the property retains a wonderful atmosphere and includes a fascinating arrangement of reception rooms, ancillary accommodation, cellar rooms, former service areas, and extensive additional space which simply must be viewed to be fully appreciated.

The accommodation is extensive and somewhat unusual in layout, making a traditional room-by-room description difficult. Carmel Court is very much a property that unfolds as you walk through it, with a variety of interconnecting rooms and spaces lending themselves to a wide range of possible configurations. The main accommodation features large rooms with high ceilings and period features, a self contained first floor flat, large reception areas, a substantial kitchen space, impressive vaulted cellar rooms, ancillary fully self contained accommodation accessed both via the main accommodation and private entrances, walled garden areas, and considerable potential for home working, hospitality, guest accommodation, creative use, or an impressive private residence.
