Description

For Sale Via Online Auction. Fee's Apply.

The land is substantially level with an existing pump house which used to be associated with the British Army Supply Depot and is now redundant. The building is unstable but provides an existing consent for structures on the land.

Planning consent for a commercial access was granted in 2019 (Charnwood District Planning No P/19/1133/2) and the fencing, gates and landscaping have been completed.

Finishing of the access surface to complete the planning consent is outstanding.

Location

The land is in East Goscote in the Borough of Charnwood district of Leicestershire, England, just north of the market town of Syston. The land lies less than a mile from the A46 leading North and South and approximately 13 miles from Fosse Park at the junction of the M1/M69.

The site is opposite the entrance to Beedles Lake Golf centre and is bounded by the river Wreake on one boundary. Whilst the area is within Flood Zone 3 and the surrounding area floods, the site rises up from the road and we are advised that the site itself has not flooded when the surrounding land and golf course have.
