Description

A Remarkable Architect-Designed Home Seamlessly Blending with its Natural Surroundings, Offering Panoramic Views, Exceptional Energy Efficiency and Future Potential for Development within the Grounds.

Occupying an exceptional elevated position overlooking the River Coquet, historic stone bridge and surrounding countryside, this striking detached residence offers a rare opportunity to acquire a home of individuality, privacy and architectural distinction within one of Northumberland's most picturesque settings.

Approached via a private driveway and nestled within beautifully landscaped grounds, the property enjoys a wonderful sense of seclusion whilst remaining conveniently placed for village amenities. The distinctive design is enhanced by attractive Siberian Larch cladding and impressive floor-to-ceiling glazing, creating a contemporary appearance that sits harmoniously within its natural surroundings. Carefully positioned to follow the contours of the landscape, the house appears effortlessly integrated into the hillside, allowing it to blend sympathetically with the mature woodland backdrop whilst maximising the spectacular views across the River Coquet and town itself. The extensive glazing floods the accommodation with natural light and creates a constant connection with the surrounding countryside.

Energy efficiency was a key consideration in the design of the property, which benefits from Swedish triple-glazed windows, a heat recovery ventilation system and high-quality construction throughout. These features combine to create a comfortable and remarkably efficient home, reflected in its impressive EPC rating of B and comparatively low running costs.

Externally, the residence is set within extensive mature gardens which have been carefully cultivated over many years to create a stunning backdrop throughout the seasons. Sweeping lawns, specimen trees, colourful flower borders, ornamental planting, decked seating areas, a gazebo, polytunnel, two garden sheds and numerous private vantage points combine to create an outstanding outdoor environment ideal for both relaxation and entertaining.

The elevated position affords magnificent outlooks across the surrounding landscape, whilst the generous plot provides a unique blend of countryside tranquility and village convenience. A substantial driveway and double garage further enhance the practicality of this exceptional home.

Potential for multi-generational living, accommodation for extended family or opportunities associated with the holiday-let market further enhances the appeal of this unique property. Supported by existing planning permission, the approved consent provides an exciting opportunity for future development, subject to all necessary consents and approvals.

Rarely does a property offering such a distinctive architectural style, outstanding gardens, excellent energy credentials, future potential and remarkable views come to the market. Early viewing is strongly recommended to fully appreciate the setting, lifestyle and accommodation on offer.
